PASTOR'S PAGE

Well here it is – my last Courier article after some 150 such columns.... We will be celebrating together on January 5th, with worship and a luncheon together – I hope you will be there in body or spirit – or perhaps even both! After the luncheon, weather permitting, a U Haul truck will be loaded at the parsonage and Fred and I will retire to our home in Waldoboro, Maine. As many of you know, we bought the house four years ago to prepare for this day. It is ten minutes from our grandchildren and their parents – and with Lillian and Eldon now 11 and 7, we are happy to be there before they are all grown up and have no time for grandparents.

Some of you have asked if I will be visiting Christ Congregational Church, and the answer is pretty much “no”. There might be a special celebration that would be an exception, but “retired” in minister-land means that we truly pass the torch, allowing the next person to fully have their turn.

The Interim Minister interviews are still in process, so I have listed below some of the “who to call if” information for the rest of this month:

SNOW: In case of snowstorm, a decision will be made by 7 am (by Barry Shelley and Jeff Illsley) and listed on Channel 5 TV as well as at the website. We DO cancel in a variety of circumstances (no power, cars being told to stay off the roads, blizzard conditions, too much snow to have the lot properly plowed in time....) so it is always best to check on Channel 5, the church Facebook page, or call ahead.

PASTORAL NEEDS AND FUNERALS: In case of pastoral need (you are in the hospital, someone dies, you need emergency funds or a Market Basket food card, or you need to talk to a pastor) call Ann-Marie Illsley. Ann-Marie will either help you or refer you to one of our retired ministers. If you would like help from the Care Teams (such as a phone call, a visit, a meal, or a card), contact Ann-Marie Illsley.

WORSHIP SCHEDULE: For January the preachers will be Rev. Katrina Clinton, Ann-Marie, and Jane MacIntyre. Lay readers have been assigned. If you would like to be on the lay reader list going forward, please tell Deana in the church office.

BOOKS (Being the Church: Testimonies of Faith) are available for $5 through the church office or in coffee hour.

Other needs? Contact Deana in the church office (508)586-3022, Ann-Marie Illsley (508)577-2607, or Barry Shelley (857)210-3152.

What else to say? I will miss you all, but do want to focus on Fred’s cancer treatment. The plan for this new cancer is chemo every other week. For the next two months we’ll come down to Dana-Farber, but may move his infusions to Maine after that. This was definitely not on our retirement list, but it is the work before us. I will continue to pray for you and for the church, and I hope that you will continue to pray for me and for Fred.

With love and appreciation for your being the church,
Rev. Patricia

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION YOUTH NEWS

Confirmation will be meeting this month on January 12th, 19th, and 26th. Classes are between 11:40-1pm. Ann-Marie will continue to lead the classes and will be accompanied by members of the Board of Deacons and eventually the Interim Minister.

Thank you to everyone who pitched in to help out with the Advent Workshop and the Christmas Pageant! Thank you especially to our young folks who helped tell the familiar Christmas story in new ways. Our middle schoolers will begin the Neighboring Faiths program in the new year, in which they will explore other parts of Christianity and world religions. Sunday School will resume on January 5th and continue through the month. Hope to see you there!

The Senior and Junior Youth Groups gathered together for an after-Christmas party on December 29th. It was quite the festive time, with lots of fellowship, games, and delicious pancakes! We capped off the afternoon with a trip to LaSalette to see them turn on the lights. The fun will continue in the new year, stay tuned for more information about upcoming dates.

Christmas Pageant 2019

Notes from Murray

What a blast of a month! This month has flown by and has been amazing in so many ways! The choirs and hand bells ensembles have all prepared very diligently for the Christmas Concert and it was splendid! Thank you to everyone who participated and learned music and attended rehearsals in order for this to be such a great event every year!

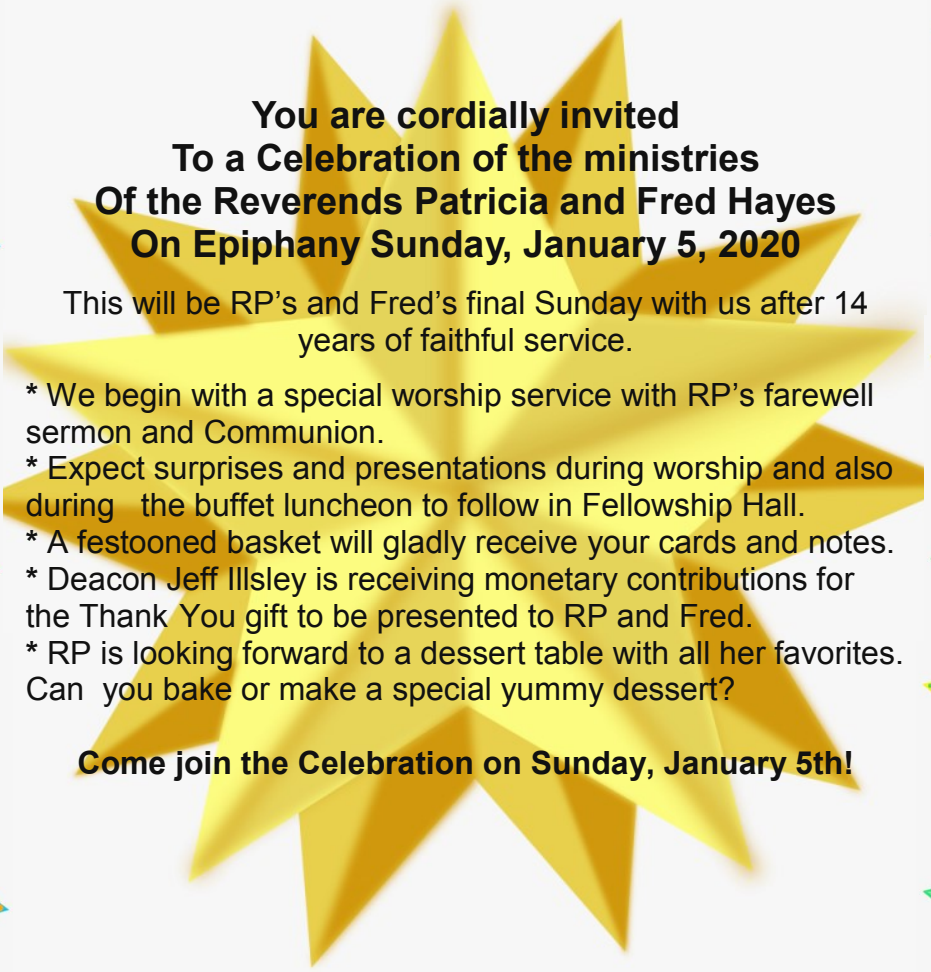

The Adult Choir went caroling on Dec. 14th and had a grand time singing at Bay Pointe Rehabilitation Center (thank you, Lorraine Wilcox!) and Height's Crossing. It was fun to sing carols and to hear everyone singing along with us and having such a grand time.

As we head into the new year, it is important to remember music and to use its amazing properties to buoy us up during the darkest weeks of the year. It can get dreary, but music can lift our spirits and fill us with joy even when things seem bleak. You could use the music you are thinking of right now, in order to prepare for our annual Talent Show in the spring! The date and time will be announced soon, so brush off your instrument, dancing shoes, magic hat, or anything else that is fun! We have had such a grand time seeing so many interesting acts!

Thank you to Liz Vann who baked hand bell shaped cookies and took donations for them in order to buy much needed hand bell cases to keep our instruments in good shape for years and years to come! Thank you to everyone who donated to the cause! We raised enough for almost both cases. We could still use about $200 more to get us to our goal, but we are close.

Happy New Year to all! It has been such a great year of music at Christ Congregational Church. God bless us, everyone!

~Murray

ORGAN COMPLETION COMMITTEE

An Update from our Organ Builder, Czelusniak & Dugal:

We are looking forward to moving full force into our Christ Congregational Church work in Brockton immediately after the holidays. In the meantime, here's what's been happening in our shop:

- Since we hold the original Austin blueprints for the instrument, including the complete layout of the original Choir division as planned, we have been studying that design to confirm the engineering work for actual construction;

- We have been unpacking and laying out in order the pipes for the Austin Scharf III mixture stop that we purchased for your instrument;
- And we have spent time restoring existing Austin wind chest actions that we have in stock, to prepare them for your Choir division construction.

Dear Friends, Family & Church,

Thank you so much for welcoming me back to share and give the sermon a few weeks ago.

The warmth, Love and donations were all so generous and created a Crown Jewel experience; One I'm grateful for and feel I'll never forget. That Sunday, the day's & nights leading up, and the change I feel collectively made and make that time and experience Invaluable, and I am so Grateful for it and you All.

For most Days & Nights I live in a bubble. I have no in-person lead to follow, and sometimes no physically present team. And so feedback of any kind is rare, wanted and of course, critical. I tend to keep my time and story to myself, choosing more often to progress on the mission and work, rather than share about the recipe - which home and church are foundational ingredients of. The congregation's reaction - your reaction - made of love, support and pride, feels like it's tightened the springs of my confidence's and mission's trampoline, and I can feel it already allowing me to see and hopefully jump to higher heights of what's possible and which problems, that effect All of Us, we can solve.

It's not Renewed, better, it's greater confidence that the world can be better and that we can take it there. That first week back after Thanksgiving, I worked past 7 am four different nights because I believe so strongly that what has been is not necessarily best or what will be, and because of you, your kindness and the opportunity you provided, I feel stronger, more validated, and right in following a path to help people.

Thank you for that gift and all of the others. I'm grateful and honored to be of service.

Thank You & Love,

Mackenzie (Kenzie) Copley

Thanks so much for helping my family with the clothing drive. It was incredible how you all put the teachings of Christ to work in such a positive and meaningful way. You are all a model of bringing the light of Jesus' ministry and lessons to life in so many positive ways. Thank you for what you did and the ways you have restored our spirit and trust in God. Dear Christ Church,

Please accept this donation in memory of my daughter Carol A. Szydowski.

Carol was a member of the church for many years. She sang in the choir, provided day care (for the infants during church service) and created baskets for the Harvest Fair. She loved being a member and the friends she made provided her with much comfort and fellowship.

It is fitting that I send this in December as her Birthday is December 17th.

Sincerely,

Januariusz (Jerry) Szydowski

A Note from the Moderator...

We are likely to find that January 2020 will not be an easy month for our congregation. After having Rev. Patricia at the pastoral helm for 14 years, life at Christ Congregational Church will inevitably be different after we say farewell to her on January 5th. Many of us will no doubt miss her—a lot—and feel a painful sense of loss. Furthermore, for the rest of January we will be in a gap between her departure and the arrival of an interim. For a few weeks we will be “on our own” with regards to having a full-time senior pastor.

I want to encourage us to encourage each other in various ways in the coming weeks:

1. It's O.K. to grieve and to acknowledge to each other that we're grieving. Let's be kind and empathetic to one another. Let's heal together. Being “on our own” without a full-time senior pastor for a few weeks might help us begin to let go and to ready ourselves for the new era.
2. While Rev. Patricia's departure will leave a temporary hole in our leadership, let's remember that we still have other, very capable staff who will not be leaving. Let's show our appreciation and respect for all they do and provide our support for the extra load they may need to carry.
3. Let's remember also that one of the strengths of our congregation is the breadth and depth of our highly capable lay leadership. On one hand, let's be understanding of the load we'll all be carrying, most of us while holding full-time jobs outside of our congregation. On the other hand, let's trust our individual and collective leadership capabilities.
4. With both staff and lay leaders let's be patient when a few things inevitably fall through the cracks.
5. Let's remember that we've been preparing for this transition for almost a year. While I have no delusions that we are 100% ready, I do believe we're in fairly good shape for moving forward. Let's believe in ourselves. We'll get through this.
6. Finally, we're a church. Let's be the church, in all the ways our sign tells us.

~Barry Shelley

Pastoral Search Committee Update

As we absorb the impact of bidding farewell to the Reverends Patricia and Fred Hayes, our Transition Team, Interim Pastoral Search and Pastoral Search Committees continue to be hard at work, readying our Congregation for the next steps.

The Transition team is coordinating the input gathered from our All Church Retreat last Fall, and helping formulate an outline to be discussed at a Council Retreat in February. From this will come a Strategic Pathways proposal for implementing the priorities of our church. This proposal will be presented to the congregation for discussion and approval in the spring.

The Interim Pastor Search Committee has been receiving and reviewing profiles, and will soon begin interviewing prospective Interim Minister candidates. We hope to have an interim begin their work by early February.

The Pastoral Search Committee has been working on finalizing our Church Profile, getting it ready for presentation to the Conference. Once the profile is ready it will be available for ministers actively seeking a Settled Pastor position. At that point we will receive the profiles of interested parties for review, and our committee will begin the process of determining who will be the best fit for our Congregation.

There will be a bulletin board set up in Fellowship Hall to help keep everyone up to date on the progress.

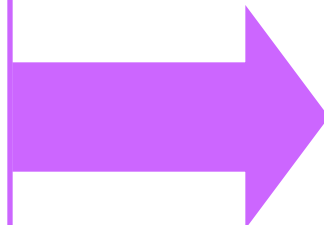

Prayerfully submitted-

Sue Koza

Pastoral Search Committee Co-Chair

Many thanks for YOUR help with the Fellowship Hour Hospitality Teams! It has been a great way to expand our vision for the hospitality time after worship, our variety of treats and snacks in fellowship hour, and to involve more people. As always, if you are unavailable to help on one of your weeks, find a substitute if you can or contact Lorraine Wilcox, our Fellowship Hour Maven.

FROM THE MISSIONS COMMITTEE...

Thank you to so many that donated over $250 to the Mission Card Tree. We all know the great need this time of year and Christ Church is proud to be one of the spokes in the wheel of giving to those that need it most.

The tree that was downstairs gathered many socks, gloves, hats and scarfs for the homeless. We will be part of the program that will help the homeless be just a bit warmer with the help of everyone that donated. The Mission Team thanks you!
